

GRANT FOR YOUNG INVESTIGATOR

The Scientific Committee of the C1-INH Deficiency Working Group respectfully requested of ViroPharma Incorporated an educational grant in the amount of USD 10,000 to provide funds for the establishment of a new grant in 2011. This grant is intended to recognize research into hereditary angioedema by young researchers in the field.

This grant may be presented to first authors, under the age of 35 years, who attend the workshop to deliver a presentation, which is rated as among the best by a three-member committee assigned by the organizers.

The “Grant for Young Investigator” shall be awarded biennially at each C1-INH Deficiency Workshop, to a maximum of four eligible recipients. Presentation of the grant shall take place at the closing ceremony of the event, by the Scientific Committee.

The first four individual grant winners will be presented at the 7th C1-INH Deficiency Workshop in 2011 – each winner will receive a grant to cover registration, hotel and travel expenses involved in attending the conference.
